Dear Parents

Re: Summer holiday expectations for History

I am writing to inform you of the work that is expected of your daughter / son over the summer break in order to give them the very best chance of success in their end of Year 11 examinations.

As we have worked through each module, the students have been encouraged to complete their own revision notes so that they are in a strong position to begin meaningful revision in Year 11. These revision notes could take any format that best suits their learning style such as mind maps, cue cards, timelines etc. By now, students should have a full set of revision notes on two modules: Anglo-Saxon and Norman England, c1060-1088 and Medicine through time, c1250-present; if this is not the case, please encourage your daughter / son to complete these. As part of this process, students must go through their exercise books carefully to make sure that all work is complete and up to date, this helps to reduce stress levels as the examinations approach. All the resources can be found on Google Classroom.

In addition to this, we are setting three examination questions that will need to be handed in during the first week back in September (you will find these on the bottom of this letter). The style of these questions appear across all three exam papers and will therefore help to strengthen their knowledge as well as examination skills.

Your support in ensuring your daughter / son completes this work will be much appreciated.

Yours sincerely
